ROMANIANS WHO CROSSED DANUBE BADLY DEFEATED

Sofia Reports That Units of Invaders, Totalling 16,000 Men Were Dispersed and Their Destruction Is Proceeding.

Petrograd Announces Capture of Teuton Position
From Volhynia South of Dniester.

Allies Advance in Macedonia and Capture Town 12 Miles South of Monastir—
Turks Are Defeated.

BERLIN, via London, Oct. 5.—The Romanians are retreating in Transylvania, in the region of Bekokton, north of Prahova, and also on both sides of the Strela valley, in the vicinity of Harghita, the War Office announced today.

SOFIA, Oct. 5.—Bulgarian troops from the fortresses of Rusechuk and Turtulki attacked and defeated the Rumanian forces of some 16 battalions (16,000 men) which recently crossed the Danube into Bulgarian territory near Rahovo, the War Office announced yesterday. The statement said:

"On the Danube front, 15 or 16 Rumanian battalions without artillery, which crossed the Danube near Rahovo, advanced and occupied the villages of Stipopol, Kajamihle, Borissawo, Malowawo, Golenowawo and Bresch-len. In order to repulse them we sent two columns from Rusechuk and Turtulki.

"On Oct. 3 the troops from Rusechuk attacked the enemy and speedily forced him to seek refuge in the direction of his position bridge, which was destroyed by Austrian monitors. The battlefield is covered with enemy dead.

"Toward evening we occupied the villages of Lishowo and Babow. The enemy troops retreated in disorder, eastward, consequently meeting our troops advancing from Turtulki. The surrounding enemy was dispersed in several directions. Our troops today are completing his destruction.

"In Dobruja there has been great activity by the enemy artillery and infantry along the entire front. All attempts by the enemy infantry to advance were frustrated by our fire and by successful counter attacks."

RUSSIANS CAPTURE TEUTON POSITIONS

RUSSIANS REPORT DEFEAT OF TURKS

PETROGRAD, Oct. 5.—Progress for the Russians in their attacks on Austro-German forces from Volhynia south to the Dniester in Galicia is reported by the War Office today. Hostile positions at various points have been captured, the statement declares.

HEAVY FIGHTING IN EASTERN THEATRE

LONDON, Oct. 5.—While rain restricts the operations on the western front in France, heavy fighting is in progress on the Russian, Rumanian and Macedonian fronts.

The fierce battle which has been raging for several days west of Lutsk, in Volhynia, is still without decisive result for either side, while in Galicia along the Zlota Lipa River, where the Russians are trying to push through to Lemberg, the Austro-German forces are still holding back the Russians. Berlin in its official account of the fighting near Lutsk says the Russian dead numbers thousands.

Bucharest is still silent with regard to the operations of Rumania's troops which crossed the Danube River between Rusechuk and Turtulki and invaded Bulgarian territory, but Berlin says these men have been hastily withdrawn in the fear of being encircled by the forces of Field Marshal von Mackensen.

ALLIES TAKE TOWN 12 MILES SOUTH OF MONASTIR.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—The allied troops on the western and the Macedonian front continue to press back the Bulgarian forces before Monastir. The War Office today announced that further ground had been gained and that the town of Bur, 13 miles south of Monastir, had been occupied.

CLICKING OF DICE NEXT DOOR KEEPS Y. M. C. A. AWAKE

Secretary of East St. Louis Organization Says He Has Complained to Police in Vain.

W. A. Miller, general secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. in East St. Louis, yesterday complained to the Post-Dispatch that the sound of craps shooting in a room in the rear of the European Hotel bar, Missouri avenue and Third street, annoyed roomers in the adjoining Y. M. C. A. building so that they could not sleep.

Part of the Y. M. C. A. building is over the room, and Miller said the occupants had been awakened as late as 3 o'clock in the morning by the sound of voices saying: "Come seven, come seven."

Miller said when the sound started, several months ago, he called up the police station on the telephone one Sunday afternoon and asked for the Chief.
He told the man who answered that he would show him how to gain entrance to the room without being discovered and arrest the players. The man, whom he supposed to be the Chief, told him he said to tell the Chief of Detectives about it.

He then called the Detective Department and told the man who answered the telephone about it, and was told to call the Chief of Police. He explained that he had done so, and asked if there was not somebody who would take care of the matter. The man said he "would see about it," Miller says, but he never has, so far as Miller knows. Nobody ever came to him to get any information, and the sound continues, Miller says.

Chicago Man Who Worked His Way

Last Year.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—James V. Nash, a 1915 graduate of the University of Chicago, has reversed all systematic benefactions to colleges. Instead of waiting until he was wealthy to remember his alma mater, Nash has given the university the first $1000 he has saved. It was announced today.

Nash, a Chicagoan, worked his way

CLAM UNDER FEDERAL INQUIRY

Scallop Also Being Investigated by Pure Food Experts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Investigation of the clam has been undertaken by the pure food experts of the Department of Agriculture. Dr. Carl L.
Albers, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, said today that scientists believed the clam to be even more subject to poison than the oyster, which itself is considered to be virtually free from disease as the result of the interstate regulations instituted by the department.

Little is known regarding the so-called habits of the clam. Most of the claims consumed in this country are taken from waters close to shore in the summer and fall when the danger of pollution from sewerage is greatest.

GRAVITY GASOLINE TEST FUTILE

Federal Official Says It Is Unsatisfactory Measure of Power.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Gasoline users were warned yesterday by Van H.
Manning, director of the Bureau of Mines, that specific gravity was not a satisfactory basis for the purchase of gasoline, and that tests had shown less than two per cent difference in power between 74 gravity and 60 gravity.

NONUNION DRIVER KILLED BY STRIKER ON MILK ROUTE

Prisoner Admits His Guilt After the Police Question Him for Four Hours.

WAS SEEN RUNNING AWAY

Helper Declares Slain Man Was Shot While Sitting on the Wagon.

Joseph Filipaky, 30 years old, of 1272 A Geyer, a shoemaker, who, since Aug.
15, had been employed as a strike-breaker by the Pevely Dairy, was shot and killed in front of 1804 South Eighteenth street at 8:15 this morning.
Edward Dawes, 28, of 1816 South Eighteenth street, who was arrested shortly afterward when policemen saw him running at Preston place and Lafayette avenue, two blocks from the scene, admitted, after four hours of questioning him, that he shot Filipaky. He previously had maintained that he knew nothing of any shooting.

John Fansin of 2318 Pennsylvania avenue was Filipaky's helper on the milk wagon. He told the police that Filipaky remained in the wagon to guard it, while he delivered milk on the west side of Eighteenth street. As he came around a house he heard two revolver shots and thought he saw two men run from the wagon into the alley.

Fansin, hurrying to the wagon, found Filipaky unconscious on the seat. The helper drove the wagon to the city hospital and Filipaky was taken into the emergency room, where he died without regaining consciousness. One bullet had entered the abdomen, the other pierced the right jaw and fractured the skull.

Fansin's explanation, when arrested, was that he had been walking near Eighteenth street and Geyer avenue when a man pointed a revolver at him and told him to "beat it."

He was taken to the Soudard Police Station, where Miss Margaret Stacy, 1735 Preston place, identified him as the man she saw running through the alley, back of her home, with a revolver in his hand. Two men in the neighborhood also identified Dawes as a man they saw running from the scene.

Capt. McNamee reported that the prisoner, after noon, said that he was walking on the sidewalk, a few doors from his home, when the strike-breaker bumped into him, apparently deliberately. He said he asked what was meant,
and that the driver drew a revolver.
I took it away from him and shot him," Dawes said.

The police found a revolver in the yard at 1735 South Eighteenth street, where Dawes said he had thrown it.
Dawes said no other man was with him, and that the milk strike had nothing to do with the shooting. Dawes said he is a switchman and was last employed on the free bridge. He is married.

There was a loaded revolver in Filipaky's pocket when he was found wounded. An inquiry is being made to learn if he carried two revolvers.

Three Pevely Dairy employees, who went to the hospital for Filipaky's wound, were arrested because they carried loaded revolvers. Edward Murphy, 3527 Lindell avenue, had a revolver in his pocket. Lester Ward, 3619 South Spring avenue, and Frank Westerman, 3828 Wisconsin avenue, each carried a revolver in a cigar
box under their arms.

Filipaky was married. He was listed in the Pevely Dairy as "John Filipaky."

GOETHALS HEAD OF BOARD TO INVESTIGATE ADAMSON LAW

Appointment of Former Canal Zone
Governor Announced by President—Name Two Others.

Goethals, Governor of the Panama Canal Zone, and Commissioner Clark of the Interstate Commerce Commission

board created by Congress to investigate the Adamson law. Formal announcement of the selection of all three members will be made tonight.

The President made the selections several days ago and has been waiting for the acceptances. Gen. Goethals gained the consent of the President several weeks ago to retire as Governor of the Canal Zone. He was offered the new position on his arrival from the canal recently. He will serve as chairman of the board.

THOUSANDS LINE OMAHA STREETS TO GREET PRESIDENT

Executive Continuously Cheered on Way From Station to Commercial Club.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 5.—President Wilson came to Omaha today for one of the busiest days of his career. Arriving here shortly before noon, after greeting several thousand people in towns he passed through, he went immediately to the Commercial Club for his first Middle West speech since the campaign opened. Later his program called for two more speeches and participation in a parade symbolizing Nebraska's history.

A cheering crowd of thousands of people gathered from all parts of Nebraska and neighboring states to greet the President on his arrival and continued to applaud as he proceeded through the streets in an automobile. A nonpartisan committee officially welcomed the President and Mrs. Wilson to Omaha.

Because of the Ak-Sar-Ben celebration of Nebraska's admission to statehood, Omaha was in gala attire. Flags decorated the buildings and bands of music played almost constantly. The President immediately entered into the spirit of the occasion. Bands of indians and of cowboys were here to participate in the parade. It was estimated fully 100,000 people lined the streets.

600 Business Men at Luncheon.
President Wilson was received with enthusiastic applause when he entered the Commercial Club, where 600 Omaha business men were gathered. He sat between Gov. Moorehead and Senator Hitchcock. The luncheon was decorated with American flags. Outside the club a band played patriotic music.

Just before the President began speaking ice cream in the shape of doves of peace was placed before him amid applause. He was introduced by J. A. Sunderland, president of the Omaha Commercial Club. The entire audience stood and cheered and waved their napkins.

On his way to Omaha, the President told a large crowd at Council Bluffs that he wished women could vote. Appearing on the rear platform of his private car, he was greeted with shouts that "we are going to vote for you—everybody." A woman called out, "I wish the women could vote." "I wish they could," responded the President.
"It is mighty fine for you to come out and greet me this way. It cheers me very much. This is substantial evidence that you are going to vote for me."

The President told a crowd at Missouri Valley, Mo., that he appreciated greatly the receptions given him in the Middle West.

The President was up early this morning and with Mrs. Wilson appeared on the train platform at Carroll and Des-leau, Mo. At each place he thanked the crowds for coming out to see him.
When the crowd applauded Mrs. Wilson, the President said, "I think she could be elected easily."

A man at Carroll asked the President
if he would accept a tariff commission if re-elected.
"I'm going to appoint it before I'm re-elected," Mr. Wilson replied.
"Then I'm for you," the questioner replied.

"I'm pretty far from my father," the President remarked, "but I like to get out among you folks. Thank you for coming to the station."

2 INVALID BROTHERS TRAPPED ON FIFTH FLOOR OF BUILDING

Their Attendant Jumps From Window and Dies of Hurts — Falling Wall Crushes Two Fireman.

11 OTHERS BURIED IN RUINS OF WHOM 4 ARE MISSING

Seven Taken Out Badly Injured—30 of Faculty and 105 Boarding Students Escape—Main Building of School Burned, Two Wings Saved.

The main or central section of the historic Christian Brothers' College, at King's highway and Easton avenues, was practically destroyed by fire which started about 7:20 a. m. today and two aged and infirm members of the Catholic teaching order and an attendant, not a member of the order, were killed.

In the collapse of a wall, after the fire was under control, Lieut. Harry Budde of Engine Co. 43 and Edward Kuehnert of Truck Co. 19 were killed and at least 11 other firemen were buried in the ruins. Seven were taken out alive, but badly hurt. Of these six were taken to St. John's Hospital and one to the City Hospital.
After these were removed it was known that at least four others were still in the ruins.

The known dead are:
The Rev. Brother Cormac,
The Rev. Brother Clement,
Lewis Noleen, infirmarian nurse,
Harry Budde, Lieutenant Engine
Company 43,
Edward Kuehnert, ladderman Truck
Company 19.

The firemen were buried when a fire wall in the shell of the main college building collapsed at 11:45
a. m. They were standing on a beam which spanned the rotunda of the ruined building when the wall crumbled and fell, crushing them. The collapse of the wall from the third floor level into the mass of wreckage below.

Says Fifteen Are in Ruins.
"One of the first of the firemen taken out after the collapse was James Woods, piperman of Engine Company No. 28. A passing dairy truck took him to the city hospital. While he was being taken from the ruins he said: 'There are 15 more of the boys in there.'"

Others taken out alive were: Patrick
J. Cassidy, 608 Ridge avenue, company
No. 43; F. G. Holtman, 415 West Leslie, company No. 47; Joseph Catell, 1219 Cass avenue, company No. 52; N. J.
Finnegan, 2736 Walton avenue, company
No. 52; Gus Shaffer, 1280A Goodfellow avenue, company No. 52; August Stern-feldt, Truck Company No. 19.

They are seriously hurt. The fire those buried in the ruins and not found are:
Lieutenant Michael Waters, Truck
Co. No. 19.

George Young, Truck Co. No. 19.
John Barshall, Truck Co. No. 19.
—The Engine Co. No. 31.
At 1:30 p. m. Director of Public Safety Swingley said that Lieut. Waters and Firemen Young, Barshall and Shea were positively known to be missing. At that time Swingley did not know Kuehnert was among those buried in the ruins and not found are:

Priests Go Into Ruins.
Eight priests who had gone to the fire to render spiritual aid to anyone who might be injured, after the collapse went into the ruins to minister to such of the buried firemen as could be reached. They reported that they found several men pinned under the wreckage. The priests were Father Woods, All Saints' Church;
Father McFadden, Blessed Sacrament;
Father Galvin, St. Mark's; Father
O'Toole, St. Leo's; and Fathers Mc-Keown, O'Rourke, Downes and Carroll of St. Alphonsus.

After the fire started, while the brothers and students were at breakfast, flames spread so rapidly that there was no chance for brothers or students to rescue Brother Cormac, 50 years old, and Brother Clement, 71, who were in the infirmary on the fifth floor. Both were invalids. Unable to help themselves, they were trapped by the flames.
Lewis Noleen, 55 years old, of Morrisonville, Ill., assistant nurse in the infirmary, who had been detailed to care for the two aged brothers, dropped from the window of the infirmary while firemen were attempting to rescue him with scaling ladders and a life net. He was taken to St. John's Hospital, where he died several hours later.

All of the 105 boarding students and the 30 brothers were in the basement dining room when the fire was discovered. Under the direction of Brother James, the students marched from the building, not knowing there was a fire, until they were outside.

Fire Burns Two Hours.
The fire burned fiercely for more than two hours and attracted a great crowd which swarmed over the spacious grounds surrounding the college. Because of the building's high location the smoke could be seen from many sections of St. Louis and the county.

So far as could be learned the fire started at the fourth or fifth floor level near a freight elevator shaft on the north side of the building. There were no passenger elevators in the structure.

The central section destroyed was the original college building. It was about 30 feet wide and nearly 30 feet deep and was surrounded by a dome-like cupola and a roof observatory on which was said to be one of the most complete wireless telegraph stations in the West.

While nominally only six stories high,
this central section, with its cupola, was built in the generous proportions which prevailed nearly 40 years ago, and it's surrounding cupola it was almost as high as a modern 16-story building.
In the interior was an open rotunda, so that in the center of the building there was a clear space from the ground floor to the apex of the cupola.

Two Wings Saved.
Two wings to the east and west of the central structure were saved. They were four stories high and of later construction than the main building.

GERMANS ON SOMM IN NEED OF GUNS, DOCUMENT SHOWS

Secret Instructions of Gen. von Arnim Fall Into Hands of British.

FOOD SUPPLY PLENTIFUL

More Aeroplanes and Ammunition Required—Efficiency of English Troops Admitted.

WAR CORRESPONDENT'S HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Oct. 5.—Germany is short of guns, aeroplanes and war material of all sorts, but not of food, according to a most sensationally interesting document the British have captured, which is called "Secret Instructions of the Fourth German Corps in the battle of the Somme."

The document was written as instructions to the troops. It was drawn from the lessons of the battle by Gen. Count von Arnim, the corps commander, who has been fighting opposite the British throughout the offensive. This long detailed revelation of the inner thoughts of the German staff discusses the methods and shortcomings of every branch of the German army, in view of the unexpected power and organization the British have shown. The document starts out by paying a tribute to the British infantry, "which undoubtedly has learned much since last autumn's offensive."

Praise for the British. "It shows great dash in attack," the document continues. "The Englishman also has physique and training in his favor. One must acknowledge the skill of the English in rapidly consolidating captured positions and their great tenacity in the defense of them."

Because the breach actions of so many German rifles have been clogged with dirt, Gen. von Arnim suggests in the document that it would be advisable to fit a cover over the breach of the rifles, like that used in the British army, which can be easily fastened, and then hangs from the rifle.

"Explicit instructions are given in the document to the artillery to change their methods of playing battles in villages and behind steep slopes, because of the British method of distribution of their artillery fire, which searches all previous shelters. Owing to the terrific concentration of the British artillery fire, says the document, front lines of trenches should be thinly held and dependence placed on small groups of machine gunners. Once the British lay a curtain of fire on a trench, it adds, the men had better evacuate it and lie down in the open."

Most interesting to the officers, in view of the fact that the British have so insistently held ground they have taken against counter attack, is what Gen. von Arnim says on the subject.

Danger in Counter Attacks. "If counter attacks, which, on account of the situation, ought to be methodically prepared, are hurried, they cost much blood, because the troops lose their trust in the leaders if they fail, which nearly always happens," says Gen. von Arnim.

He then complains that the existing telephone system has proved totally inadequate, in consequence of the developments of the fighting and says the artillery signal system broke down. He has discovered that British aeroplanes use sound signals to tell gunners where their shells are falling, and says the Fourth Corps already has started experiments on the same kind of method as a complement to the wireless, which is frequently interrupted.

"The numerical superiority of the British air men and the fact that their machines were better made is disagreeably apparent to us," Gen. von Arnim says, and he speaks of the surprisingly bold procedure of British airmen, who were often "able to fire successfully on our troops with machine guns by descending to within a few hundred feet of the ground."

He added that the German anti-aircraft guns could not continue firing at that height, "because of the danger of their own troops to the serious danger of shell fragments."

Before the battle of the Somme, airmen kept at anywhere from 8000 to 12,000 feet over the lines on account of anti-aircraft guns.

Rifles to Stop Airmen. Gen. von Arnim warns his infantry to use their rifles against these daring British aviators. He says that the ammunition supply and the artillery are inadequate and that maps were insufficient in quantity and bad as regards details. Also the supply of horses has reached the utmost limit.

Of the food supply Gen. von Arnim says: "No special difficulties arose. The supply columns proved sufficient."

But he emphasizes the importance of mineral water and beverages which the British have always found plentiful in captured German trenches and says that the troops cannot have too much of all kinds of sausages and meat when fighting. Dried herring are unsatisfactory as they increase thirst, and alcoholic drinks need not be served out to the troops in dry, warm weather, but solidified alcohol for cooking warm meals has proved useful.

Fresh troops, says the document, should always be used for attacks. They should avoid sunken roads and natural cover, as the British, with their plentiful gunfire, are sure to have these points registered by their guns and turn loose on them, immediately an attack starts. Gen. Arnim emphasizes the value of the steel helmets which the French first introduced and with which the Germans are not yet fully supplied.

Big Ammunition Supply Wanted. As an idea of the amount of ammunition such battle conditions as those of the Somme require, Gen. von Arnim says that a battery of four field guns should have 200 rounds at the battery itself, aside from its reserve supply.

Gen. von Arnim's cry is for more guns, aeroplanes and ammunition—everything except fog.

Future of C. B. C. to Be Considered at Meeting Tomorrow

O all friends of Christian Brothers College:

While the ruins of the old Christian Brothers College are still before you, we appeal to you to attend a meeting at the Mercantile Club at 3 p. m. tomorrow, Friday afternoon, at which Archbishop John J. Glennon will preside. Let us join hands and forces and see that one of the oldest educational institutions of St. Louis is promptly reconstructed or no quarters secured for them.

John G. Lonsdale, John S. Leahy, John P. Quinn, Joseph P. Hartnett, O'Neil Ryan and Festus J. Wade.

Move to Smith Academy. The board of trustees of Washington University met at 1 o'clock this afternoon and tendered the use of Smith Academy, Von Yveen avenue and Windemere place, free of charge, to the brothers. The offer was accepted, and school will be opened there tomorrow morning. All students are expected to be present at the usual hour.

5 Killed in Fire at C. B. C. and 3 Are Missing

floor. George Morris of Truck Company 15 stood on the top of this ladder and hooked a scaling ladder to the fourth floor window sill. He repeatedly called to Noleen, telling him not to jump.

At the same time firemen on the ground were preparing to stretch a life net.

The flames were crowding Noleen closely. Without waiting for the scaling ladder to be raised higher he hung to the window sill by his fingers for an instant and then dropped. As he fell he struck Morris who was on the scaling ladder directly below him and knocked Morris from the ladder.

"Noleen landed on the lawn, hopelessly injured. Morris fell to the roof of an outbuilding. A cut on the head was his only injury. Noleen died several hours later.

Shortly after 9 a. m. the entire roof of the main section of building caved in and the wreckage of the heavy slate-covered cupola dropped with a tremendous crash into the lobby.

Water Pressure Low. Owing to the altitude of the college site, the water pressure was low, and this hampered the firemen. As indicating the height of the point on which the college stood, a perpendicular iron pin on top of a foundation laid for an addition that was never built marked a height which was said to be even with the top of the old water tower on East Grand avenue.

The building was a block from the nearest water plugs, but was equipped with a standpipe with four hose connections at each floor level. There was one fire escape on the north side of the building.

When the roof collapsed, about 9 o'clock and the flaming mass fell down through the rotunda, the second floor immediately was aflame. Firemen then admitted that the main structure was doomed and their efforts were centered upon saving the two wings on the east and the west sides of the main structure. Each wing is four stories high. They were used for dormitories.

A few minutes before the roof collapsed Chief O'Donnell of the Salvage Corps instructed eight or ten of his men who were in the building to leave. They got out just in time to escape injury from the wreckage which fell into the rotunda.

The burning of the college was a spectacle which attracted thousands. Persons on street cars and in automobiles followed to the scene the fire apparatus which responded to the general alarm fire. Every street leading to the college was filled with automobiles and spectators. Traffic on the Westlawn street car line was blocked.

Brother James, vice president of the college, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that when the main section was built in the late 70s it cost nearly $750,000. This, he said, was partly due to the fact that all the interior woodwork was of the most expensive rosewood and mahogany. The present value of the main building, he said, had been estimated to be $200,000. The exact amount of the insurance carried on the building could not be definitely stated, as the records were kept in the section of the college which was destroyed. Some of the brothers said they believed the insurance was about $200,000.

Two Museums Lost. One loss deplored by the brothers was the natural history and curio museum in the rotunda of the main building. This museum was started by Brother Cormac, who lost his life in the fire.

Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile National Bank and prominent in Catholic affairs, arrived at the college while the fire was in progress and offered to assume the expense of housing the boarding students until they could make arrangements to return to their homes.

Christian Brothers' College Building of Third Class.

In the building record at the city hall the Christian Brothers' College is described as a building of the third class, with joists, floors, corridors and stairways of wood, and one fire escape, all that the law requires, according to Building Commissioner McKelvey, who said the college had complied with the law applying to fire escapes and exits.

The ordinance requires that there shall be one fire escape for each 60 scholars or occupants above the second floor, and that all main doors shall open outwardly.

McKelvey said an inspection made last summer, when the enrollment was given as 25, is the basis for the record in his office. A building such as the Christian Brothers' College could not be erected today, McKelvey pointed out, as an ordinance passed in recent years requires that buildings for school purposes be fireproof.

College Founded in 1849 and Building Which Burned Was Occupied in 1882.

Christian Brothers' College was founded in 1849. For a short time the Brothers had their residence and school near Third and Walnut streets in a residence building. Early in 1850 the college was moved to property purchased for it at Eighth and Cerre streets.

Work on the building destroyed by fire today was begun in April, 1877 and it was occupied Oct. 2, 1882.

The grounds of the college originally comprised thirty acres, but in recent years some of this property has been sold by the Brothers and subdivided for residence purposes.

Brother Cormac Was 93 and Revered as the Dean.

Brother Cormac was revered as the dean of the brotherhood. He was 93 years old, and had been connected with the college since boyhood. In private life he was Michael Doyle. He was born in County Wexford, Ireland. At an early age he came to the United States with the first Christian Brothers to arrive in this country, and lived in New York for a few years.

Brother Clement was 72 years old, and has been a member of the Christian Brothers for 47 years, having entered it in Germany. In private life he was Heinrich Slacher of Newfield, Rhenish Prussia, where he was born and reared. Until a few years ago he was an active teacher, but ill health incapacitated him for that work and he was made custodian of the brothers' clothing, which office he filled until a year ago, when he was confined to the infirmary.

CONSCRIPTION IN IRELAND TO BE PUT UP TO PARLIAMENT

Nationalists Say Irish Will Unite to Oppose Compulsory Military Service.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—When Parliament reassembles next week the Government will be confronted with new embarrassing proposals for the application of the conscription to Ireland. The Times and other newspapers have been conducting a campaign with this object in view and the decision announced yesterday by the Man Power Distribution Board and Gen. Sir William Robertson, chief of the Imperial Staff, that more men are urgently needed, will, it is believed, strengthen the hands of the agitators, who have been joined by Sir Edward Carson.

Sir Edward asserts that without conscription it will be impossible to maintain the Irish regiments at the front in their proper strength. He contends that Ireland could provide another half-million men.

The Nationalists assert that Ireland will be a united nation in resistance to conscription. The Associated Press News Service has received and printed exclusively by the Post-Dispatch in the St. Louis evening field.

PRESIDENT WRITES PARAGRAPH ON PEACE FOR MOVIE FILM

His Picture Will Be Shown as Climax to Presentation of Thomas H. Ince's "Civilization."

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Announcement was made today at the Western headquarters of the Democratic National Committee, that President Wilson had written a paragraph to be used as a screen "leader" in the moving picture, "Civilization," produced by Thomas H. Ince.

This film, which has been showing in New York since early in the summer, depicts the horrors of war as a means of emphasizing the blessings of peace. At the close comes an allegory of peace, and this allegory will now have, as a climax, the picture of President Wilson, followed by the paragraph which he has written. This paragraph is:

"The nations of the world must unite in joint guarantees that whatever is done that is likely to disturb the whole world's life, must first be tested in the court of the whole world's opinion before it is attempted; and the United States must be ready to join in the guarantee, and back it up by her whole force and influence. Settled and secured peace can be made sure of in no other way when the present war is over."

WOODROW WILSON.

Several views of the President, taken at Shadow Lawn last week, will follow the showing of this paragraph.

OFFERS TO MARRY GIRL, 21, WHO CONFESSED $5000 THEFT

Man Produces Marriage License in New York Court, and Sentence Is Suspended.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Dorothy Bornholz, 21 years old, was called to the bar in the Court of General Sessions here yesterday to be sentenced for the theft of $5000 from the lace manufacturers who had trusted her implicitly while she was employed by them as a bookkeeper. She had admitted her guilt.

"Is there anybody in the court who is interested in the prisoner?" asked Judge Wadhams.

"I am, your honor," replied a young man.

"Do you realize that this young woman stands here having confessed that she stole $5000 from her employers?" asked the Court.

"I do, sir; but that makes no difference to me. I believe that she is honest at heart. I love her and I want to marry her."

Sentence was suspended when the young man, who said he was Harry Richard Mattison, a clerk, produced a marriage license. Partial restitution of the stolen money has been made and the return of the remainder promised.

Alights From One Car, Hit by Another.

Fred J. Robison, a medical student, 23 years old, of 3555 Vista avenue, after alighting from a car at Grand and Vista avenues last night, was knocked down by a car bound in the opposite direction. He was cut on the face and head.

WORLD'S GREATEST ORDNANCE PROVING GROUND PLANNED

New Jersey Plant Expected to Surpass That of Krupp—20,000 Acres Purchased.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 5.—The Bethlehem Steel Corporation announces its new proving ground for ordnance to be established near Mays Landing, N. J., will be the greatest in the world. The property, about 20,000 acres, runs for 13 miles along the Great Egg Harbor River.

Both in size and in equipment the new plant will surpass the famous Krupp grounds in Germany. It will be used for testing ordnance built by the Bethlehem corporation for the United States Government and for foreign Powers. More than $500,000 has been expended in purchasing the grounds and an equal amount, it is said, will be required to put the plant in operation.

5 Passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers—$1090 Detroit

QUALITY

That is the Real Secret of the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers Popularity

Quality First

Whenever you see the Chalmers trade mark you always see the phrase "Quality First." Whenever you think Chalmers you think "Quality." And if you have been reading my ads or have been in my salesroom, you are impressed with the fact that the 3400 r. p. m. is a Chalmers car of unusual quality.

I've often said that it is, in my opinion, the greatest car the Chalmers Company has built. And I have an excellent reason for saying this. It is a step ahead of any preceding Chalmers because it performs a shade better. The Quality in the new Chalmers is the kind of quality that tells on the road and tells wonderfully.

Now it is just this exceptional quality, just this shade of improvement that has brought Chalmers sales and production ahead in leaps these 12 months past.

I don't think the men in charge of affairs at the Chalmers factory realized what they had in the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers. At any rate they underestimated the demand. They built more than they had ever produced in any previous season, 'tis true, but still not enough.

The first making order was snapped up quickly. Then came a second lot. These went just as fast.

Now the factory is building the third lot and I understand that Chalmers has no intention of stopping even there. Quality it was that caused this unprecedented demand. Chalmers certainly have the right idea in building cars. "Quality First."

T. R. REPLIES TO LANE ON POLICY OF NOTE-SENDING

Colonel Declares Threat to Germany as to Submarine Warfare Was Never Carried Out.

YEAR OF CORRESPONDENCE

Says 2300 Noncombatants, Including 200 Babies, Were Killed.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
OSTER BAY, Oct. 5.—Col. Roosevelt has sent a letter to Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, in reply to the Secretary's denial that he had admitted that the note-sending policy of the Wilson administration has been a failure.

In his Battle Creek speech the Colonel quoted Secretary Lane as saying that the Secretary's denial that he had admitted that the note-sending policy of the Wilson administration has been a failure.

The Colonel's Letter.
The letter in part follows:
"In your final paragraph you say that Chief Justice White has been quoted as saying that by our notes to Germany we have achieved the greatest diplomatic triumph of a half century, and you say that you agree with this view, and that we have achieved more by this note-sending than years of war could have accomplished."

"I trust for the sake of my esteemed friend, Justice White, that he has been as erroneously quoted in this statement as you were in yours. I remember when the statement was made. It was not at the end of the note-sending episode; it was nearer the beginning, just prior to the sinking of a ship by a German submarine on which occasion some hundreds of lives were lost. The sinking of this ship, following immediately upon the alleged statement of Chief Justice White, served as a curious commentary thereon."

"You are now yourself, my dear Mr. Secretary, in a diplomatic position, conducting negotiations apparently with the object of seeing what we can do to placate the Mexicans for our having permitted them to murder hundreds of our men, women and children, and to settle as to how much money we shall pay them for having forced us already to incur an expenditure of between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000."

Big Expenditures Incurred.
"We incurred this expenditure in taking Vera Cruz and then abandoning it without achieving any results, and in sending the Pershing expedition into Mexico to have our soldiers murdered without exacting any atonement, and in gathering 100,000 national guardsmen on the border without saying whether they are to wage peace or to wage war."

"You say in regard to our note sending to Germany as having 'achieved the greatest diplomatic triumph of half a century.' In February, 1915, in our first note we informed Germany that if her submarines caused the death of any of our people by sinking ships on which they were traveling we would hold her to strict accountability. For over a year thereafter we continued to write notes, and the Germans continued to sink ships on which our citizens were traveling."

"They killed, all told, some 2300 non-combatants, between 100 and 200 babies under 2 years of age, 80 of whom were under 1 year of age. There were several hundred women among the persons killed. We did not hold Germany to 'strict accountability.' We did not hold her to any accountability, strict or loose. For one year we permitted the killings to go on unchecked."

Submarine Captains Decorated.
"No atonement has been given us by Germany for our people who were killed. It has been announced in the public press that several of the Captains of German submarines have been decorated for the very acts for which we informed Germany that we would hold her to strict accountability."

"The other day, in the Reichstag, the Chancellor threatened to renew the submarine warfare. Within the last month we have seen notices of several ships of neutrals being torpedoed and sunk with loss of life. It appears that the stoppage was primarily due to the fact that the British, by their vigor patrol, captured or destroyed most of the submarines."

"My dear Mr. Lane, if you regard this record as constituting the 'greatest diplomatic triumph of a full half century,' and that thereby we achieved more than years of war could have accomplished, you must pardon my saying that you show more easy optimism of nature than soundness of historic judgment."

Searchlight on Bank of Commerce Reveals Flag & Stories Above.
Among the downtown decorations last night the thirty-foot American flag on the National Bank of Commerce building, illuminated with a searchlight from an extension bracket 8 stories below, attracted wide attention. John H. Lonsdale, president of the bank, conceived the idea of illuminating the flag and secured a 15,000 candlepower light for that purpose. The effect was quite startling and unusual. The great flag appeared to be suspended over the street by an invisible hand as it waved in the breeze with the light accentuating its stars and stripes.

Convict Testifies He Was Not Beaten in Penitentiary.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 5.—Charges that D. C. McClung, warden of the Missouri penitentiary, was responsible for an alleged felonious assault on James Underwood, a convict, were dismissed in Justice Court here yesterday at a hearing of the warrant sworn out against the warden by an aunt of Underwood. Underwood testified that at no time had any officer of the prison struck him. "I was kept in the rings for three days after the fire in the prison, which they accused me of setting," he said, "and was given a diet of bread and water during that time, but I was not struck."

GERMAN STOWAWAY GETS TO U. S.

Escaped at Havre After Year in French Prison Camp.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 5.—After spending a year in a French prison camp, stowing away on the Norwegian steamer Sif, and spending eight days with chocolate and water as his only nourishment, Edward Kosmol, a German soldier, was taken before Immigration Commissioner Stump when the steamer arrived yesterday and held.

Kosmol told how on July 22, 1915, he was a member of the Fifty-first Silesian infantry, crushed by the French at a battle near Arras in France. With 800 other Germans he was taken to Havre and placed in the prison pens. Later he was one of hundreds marched daily to the great quays of that port to help discharge steamers that brought food and ammunition for the allies. It was on one of these that he hid himself.

Low Death Rate in New Orleans.
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5.—New Orleans' death rate for September—13.79 per thousand—was the lowest in 109 years, the City Health Commissioner announced today.

DR. R. C. FLOWER, SWINDLER, DIES

Was "Healer" Minister, Doctor and Long a Fugitive.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Dr. Richard C. Flower, known throughout the country for bogus stock selling operations, from which he was credited with having netted more than $1,000,000, fell dead in a Hoboken theater Sunday, but the body was not identified until yesterday. Flower, who operated under many aliases, was in turn lawyer, preacher, "healer" an "alchemist" with a "secret" for the manufacture of rubies, and a Wall street mine operator. He was 73 years old.

At the time of his last arrest, in Toronto in 1914, Flower had been 4 months from justice for nearly 12 years. He was liberated Aug. 1 last from the Blackwell's Island Penitentiary.

for Attorney-General on the Republican ticket, filed suit for a recount of the ballots yesterday, against Edward J. Brundage, the successful candidate.

How to Rid the Skin of Objectionable Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)
A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hairy or fussy growths, and rarely is more than one treatment required. Mix a stiff paste with some powdered talc and water, apply to hairy surface, and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment cannot cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real talc.—ADV.

MAJ. WILLIAM WARNER, FORMER SENATOR, DIES

Kansas Citizen Had Been Ill for Several Weeks, Following His Activities for G. A. Reunion.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 5.—Maj. William Warner, former Republican United States Senator from Missouri, died at his home here yesterday.

Maj. Warner had been ill for several weeks, his last sickness being attributed by his friends to his activities in connection with the entertainment of the fiftieth annual reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic. When his condition became critical three weeks ago a transfusion of blood from his son was resorted to in the hope of increasing his strength, but the improvement was only temporary. Death was ascribed by physicians to arterio-sclerosis.

Educated Himself. Maj. Warner was born in Lafayette County, Wis., June 11, 1839, and when six years old was orphaned. From then on, he practically made his own way in life.

In the Civil War he was a Lieutenant in the Thirty-third Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry. He served under Grant in the Tennessee and Mississippi campaigns. He was commissioned Captain in 1863 and finally Major in the forty-fourth Wisconsin Infantry. Maj. Warner became Mayor of Kansas City in 1870, the only man elected on the Republican ticket. Kansas City then had many problems, and chief among these was that of the waterworks, begun in the two years of his administration. A fight concerning payments to the holding company became bitter, and Maj. Warner believed that his party had taken a wrong stand. As a result, he worked openly for the election of Judge Turner, A. Gill, Democrat, as Mayor in 1875, and the credit for Judge Gill's victory was given largely to Maj. Warner.

President Arthur appointed Warner United States District Attorney for the Western District of Missouri in 1881. Two years later he was elected to Congress and introduced 12 bills the first session. All were passed.

Missouri was strongly Democratic then, but in 1882 he almost succeeded in being elected Governor. His next office was United States Attorney again under an appointment by President McKinley in 1898. That office he held until his election as Senator in 1906.

His Election to Senate. Maj. Warner's election as United States Senator came as the climax of one of the most dramatic and bitter political fights ever waged in this State.

In the election of 1904, the Republicans won the Legislature, on joint ballot. When the Legislature met in January, Thomas K. Niedringhaus, who had been chairman of the Republican State Committee, and Richard C. Kerens, multimillionaire, who died recently, offered themselves as candidates.

In the party caucus Niedringhaus won. Kerens went home. The two houses of the Legislature balloting separately in accordance with the Constitution, gave Niedringhaus the necessary majority. But a few hours before the two houses were to meet jointly to ballot for Senators, Kerens reappeared at Jefferson City and organized a bolt.

He was able to take with him enough Republican members to prevent Niedringhaus from winning. On the last day of the session the fighting factions of the Republicans broke away from their idols and elected Maj. Warner.

Some of the Reasons People Prefer Nugents

- 1.—The feeling of "old-established" clings to it and radiates it, and that in turn creates the feeling of reliability. You know we passed our 43rd anniversary some time back.
- 2.—That the original founders of this institution are still active in its management.
- 3.—But more than all this, perhaps of immediate importance is the news that has got about (which is true) that Nugents by enormous investments in merchandise made before the general price advances, are showing immense stocks of new goods at prices that are very advantageous to the public who do their shopping here.

The Fall and Winter buying of home and personal needs is now generally underway. Pin this upon your mental mirror:

CHILD GETS SICK WHEN CONSTIPATED LOOK AT TONGUE!

Hurry, mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" if cross, bilious or feverish.

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given. If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poisons, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweetens the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Co."—ADV.

MEXICANS TOLD INTERNAL AFFAIRS MUST BE SETTLED

American Conferees Insist on Discussing Matters Affecting Rights of Foreigners.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 5.—Satisfactory solution of internal questions having an international bearing must be an integral part of the general program for the rehabilitation of Mexico, the Mexican members of the joint commission have been informed by their American colleagues.

During discussion of the banking system, taxation and other subjects, which the Mexicans insisted were internal matters, the American commissioners have taken the stand that no satisfactory settlement of the border problem can be reached until there is evidence of the intention of the Mexican Government to so handle such affairs that there will be no occasion for constant diplomatic correspondence with other governments.

The matters especially referred to by the American commissioners yesterday were those affecting the status and rights of foreigners resident in Mexico and of foreigners who have invested capital in Mexican enterprises.

Luis Cabrer, head of the Mexican Commission, is dealing with the committee representing a large group of mining concerns in Mexico in his capacity as Minister of Finance rather than as one of the commissioners. He expects to meet the mining men's representative Saturday in New York for a conference.

The official statement yesterday follows:

"The morning session of the American and Mexican Joint Commission was devoted to presentation to the Mexican Commissioners by the American colleagues of the importance of giving consideration to certain questions which have a distinct international bearing because of their effect on the status and the rights of foreigners resident in Mexico and of foreigners who have invested their capital in Mexican enterprises. "The position taken by the American commission is that the satisfactory solution of these questions is an integral and necessary part of a general program, the purpose of which is to assure to Mexico the resumption of her normal position amongst the nations of the earth."

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS TO FLUSH THE KIDNEYS IF YOUR BACK HURTS YOU

Advices Missouri folks to overcome Kidney and Bladder trouble and Rheumatism while it is only trouble.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distresses, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness and bladder irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; and to neutralize the acids, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and other organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—ADV.

Pay Your Debts This Way

Many honest people get a bad reputation for not paying their bills because of small debts. Individually they are small, collectively they are large and amount to an important sum.

Each creditor has a right to expect his bill to be paid first—but with a limited income this is impossible unless you consolidate your debts into one account with the Industrial Loan Co.

We lend you the money at 6% per annum, then let you take a whole year to repay it in small weekly or monthly payments—no chattel mortgage is required—all we ask is the indorsement of two relatives or friends.

Tells a Secret

Manufacturer of Famous Medicine Tells Ingredients So Public Can Appreciate Pure, Reliable Medicine.

Many people fear to take medicine to check and abort colds, cure coughs, catarrh, etc. This fear is groundless, with all the products of The Blackbura Products Co., Dayton, Ohio. Not one contains opiates, narcotics or harmful drugs. Menthol-Laxene, for coughs, colds, catarrh and all distress following a cold, is a compound of Wild Cherry, Tolu, Cascara, Grindella, Menthol, Ammonium Chloride, and alcohol sufficient to preserve and keep in solution.

Every ingredient is in concentrated form and the medicine is so strong that only ten-drop doses are to be taken in the "raw" state. But the ideal way is to make into a syrup by emptying a 2 1/2 oz. bottle of Menthol-Laxene into a pint bottle and then fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made by dissolving a pint of sugar in a half pint of boiling water. It is sold by thousands that this makes a most effective home treatment for all cold troubles. The manufacturer guarantees it to please or money back. Sold by all goods druggists.—ADV.

Complexion Fresh as a Daisy—Not a Wrinkle
In sight—Remarkable discovery of skin osmosis quickly enables women with sunken cheeks, wrinkles and marks of age again to become most beautiful, youthful and charming.

By Mlle. Marier, France's Great Prize Beauty.

It's wonderful to look beautiful and youthful. The Countess de Chevalerie who at 70 years of age possesses a marvellous soft, smooth, velvet-like skin.

No matter what your age or what you have tried unsuccessfully, skin osmosis will positively bring you new beauty and youth. Merely wash your face in warm water at night and rub in a teaspoonful of two of any good pure rose-scented cream, which you can obtain from your druggist. In the morning wash the face with cold water and rub in more cream.

In three weeks or less watch the magic transformation. See how the old, hardened, coarse, rough skin turns into new, fresh, soft, youthful-looking skin almost before your very eyes. All due to simple skin osmosis produced solely by warm water and rose-scented cream. But be sure to use only pure rose-scented cream, as it is an entirely different thing from ordinary face creams and must not be confused with them. I personally prefer Creme Tokalon (Rose-scented), but any good brand will do. If you have wrinkles get a box of Japanese Ice Pencil and use them in connection with the cream and you get quick action on the deepest wrinkles. No matter of how long standing, in one night's time, and awaken on the morning to witness most astonishing results.

I personally guarantee success in every case. In any of my newspaper articles which I write on subjects relating to beauty, or any products which I recommend, provide you take your dealer's receipt at the time you make your purchase. My American address is: Simone Marier, 20 West 32nd Street, New York.

NOTE—The manufacturer of Creme Tokalon (Rose-scented) have such unbounded confidence in their product that they offer to forfeit $200.00 to any charitable institution if it is found that it will not banish every complexion blemish and give most astonishing new beauty to wrinkled, care-worn, aged women in three days' time in many instances.

Can be obtained absolutely fresh and guaranteed pure from B. Kugent & Bros., 12 E. 12th St., St. Louis, Mo. or from the non-Enders-Pauler Drug Co., Judge & Druggist, 1000 N. 1st St., St. Louis, Mo.

and an almost girl-like complexion without a wrinkle in sight, told me it all personally to Paris that she owed her complexion blemish can be banished in three nights in any instance, and you can awaken in the morning with a beautiful, natural, rose-colored complexion fresh as a daisy.

I have known dozens of hollow-cheeked, wrinkled, aged-looking women, who had given up all hope of ever looking beautiful and youthful again, to "Come back" and again become most beautiful, youthful and fascinating in from three to seven weeks' time by this wonderful simple method.

PRIME MINISTER EXPLAINS SWEDEN'S NEUTRAL ATTITUDE

Declares If She Tried to Mediate One or Other of Belligerents Would Be Offended.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 5.—Dr. K. H. L. Hammarjöld Prime Minister of Sweden, in the only interview he has granted to a foreign journalist since the war began, said to the Associated Press correspondent:

"Sweden proclaimed her attitude of neutrality at the very outbreak of the war. All her actions since that time have borne out that proclamation and all rumors or accusations that she has done, or intends to do, anything to assist either of the belligerents are due either to failure to comprehend her situation or to some less creditable reason. And whenever Sweden has taken any step displeasing a belligerent Power, her action has been dictated solely by considerations of the kingdom's own necessities and of its future welfare, and not by any partisan reasons.

"We hope sincerely that the belligerents will not make it impossible for us to maintain this attitude until the end."

"Sweden Keep Their Word."

Throughout the interview the Premier continued to lay stress on his Government's desire to follow unwaveringly the policy of unpartisanism thus far followed.

"And when you get to know the Swedes better you will, I think, find that when they say or promise a thing they mean it," continued the Minister.

In a communication issued Sept. 22, after the recent conference of the Scandinavian ministers at Christiania, it was said that "the Governments of the three countries consider that under the actual circumstances there could be no question for them, either alone or in common with other neutral governments, of taking the initiative in any mediation between the belligerent Powers."

Premier Hammarjöld explained why this attitude had been taken. He said: "Suppose that we should, as things and feelings are now, offer our services as mediators, the result would be the result of the belligerent Powers, who would say that we were interfering to protect their enemies.

"Both sides would feel that we were committing an unequal act and we should have accomplished nothing except to add to the volume of suspicion of our motives from every side. And the chances of success would now be done."

The minister added with a smile: "Indeed, I am almost afraid to say I hope for peace."

The Premier referred to certain measures of the belligerent Powers mentioned in the official communication Sept. 22, particularly the destruction of neutral prizes at sea, interference with neutral shipping and the "black list." Sweden finds itself in harmony with America in its protest against this measure.

"The blacklist is objectionable," said the Premier, "not only because of its present operation, but because it will affect the future of the times. We feel that it constitutes an unjust attempt to deprive certain of our citizens of their rights and we do not like to see any Swedish subject lose any of his rights as a citizen unless by judgment of the courts."

"We are glad to know that the United States has taken steps in this matter and we have welcomed other steps by that Government in the defense of the rights of neutrals and for the upholding of the rules of international law."

"I may perhaps say that already before our conference at Christiania, Sweden had striven to keep feeling with the United States in regard to action in this direction."

"The Christiania conference lays stress on the desirability of more extensive collaboration of neutrals, more extensive collaboration of neutrals. We hope that the tradition politics of the United States will not prevent it in the present exceptional circumstances from interesting itself in such collaboration."

"It is hard for Americans to realize our position," continued his excellency. "America lies so far away from the scene of the conflict and is so great and so strong economically that it has not yet seriously felt the result of the war's interference with its normal activities."

"But the time will come when America will feel it, too. Just now the material advantages may outweigh greatly the disadvantages, but it is impossible that the greater part of the rest of the world should continue indefinitely in the present unnatural and chaotic condition without America suffering also."

"We in Sweden are suffering and have been suffering these disadvantages almost from the start. You are familiar with the manner in which we are requested to limit our imports to certain quantities of certain wares."

These quantities are fixed on basis of the average consumption of past years, and no consideration is given to the fact that our needs must properly increase or change otherwise, nor to the fact that we cannot consent to any limitation menacing our industrial development in the future."

Upon what, in what manner is our proper industrial development to proceed if we are held to supplies of materials more or less arbitrarily fixed and at all events, inadequate?"

"Country Alone Concerned."

"As I have already said, no action taken by us in respect of these things is in any way dictated by foreign considerations, nor by sympathy for one or the other belligerents. We are alone concerned about the future independence and economic development of our country and we cannot go so far in avoiding the present inconveniences placed upon us from without that it would endanger either this independence or development."

"Restrictions which are felt in comparatively small measure by the great American can strike at our very vitals."

We are convinced that in our situation the Americans, who appreciate as much as we do the independence of a country and the legal right of its citizens, would feel and act exactly as we do."

After remarking on the impossibility of Sweden's offering mediation and referring to America's steps to secure observance of the rules of international law, the Minister said:

"America is in the fortunate position that she is the greatest of all neutrals, far removed from the strife and with great resources. She really does not need to be greatly concerned about whether this or that step does make her unpopular with the one or the other belligerent."

Premier Hammarjöld dismissed lightly the rumors which spring up from time to time to the effect that Sweden is on the point of joining in the war and dozens of similar tales.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 5.—Dr. K. H. L. Hammarjöld Prime Minister of Sweden, in the only interview he has granted to a foreign journalist since the war began, said to the Associated Press correspondent:

"Sweden proclaimed her attitude of neutrality at the very outbreak of the war. All her actions since that time have borne out that proclamation and all rumors or accusations that she has done, or intends to do, anything to assist either of the belligerents are due either to failure to comprehend her situation or to some less creditable reason. And whenever Sweden has taken any step displeasing a belligerent Power, her action has been dictated solely by considerations of the kingdom's own necessities and of its future welfare, and not by any partisan reasons.

"We hope sincerely that the belligerents will not make it impossible for us to maintain this attitude until the end."

"Sweden Keep Their Word."

Throughout the interview the Premier continued to lay stress on his Government's desire to follow unwaveringly the policy of unpartisanism thus far followed.

"And when you get to know the Swedes better you will, I think, find that when they say or promise a thing they mean it," continued the Minister.

In a communication issued Sept. 22, after the recent conference of the Scandinavian ministers at Christiania, it was said that "the Governments of the three countries consider that under the actual circumstances there could be no question for them, either alone or in common with other neutral governments, of taking the initiative in any mediation between the belligerent Powers."

Premier Hammarjöld explained why this attitude had been taken. He said: "Suppose that we should, as things and feelings are now, offer our services as mediators, the result would be the result of the belligerent Powers, who would say that we were interfering to protect their enemies.

"Both sides would feel that we were committing an unequal act and we should have accomplished nothing except to add to the volume of suspicion of our motives from every side. And the chances of success would now be done."

The Premier referred to certain measures of the belligerent Powers mentioned in the official communication Sept. 22, particularly the destruction of neutral prizes at sea, interference with neutral shipping and the "black list." Sweden finds itself in harmony with America in its protest against this measure.

"The blacklist is objectionable," said the Premier, "not only because of its present operation, but because it will affect the future of the times. We feel that it constitutes an unjust attempt to deprive certain of our citizens of their rights and we do not like to see any Swedish subject lose any of his rights as a citizen unless by judgment of the courts."

"We are glad to know that the United States has taken steps in this matter and we have welcomed other steps by that Government in the defense of the rights of neutrals and for the upholding of the rules of international law."

"I may perhaps say that already before our conference at Christiania, Sweden had striven to keep feeling with the United States in regard to action in this direction."

"The Christiania conference lays stress on the desirability of more extensive collaboration of neutrals, more extensive collaboration of neutrals. We hope that the tradition politics of the United States will not prevent it in the present exceptional circumstances from interesting itself in such collaboration."

"It is hard for Americans to realize our position," continued his excellency. "America lies so far away from the scene of the conflict and is so great and so strong economically that it has not yet seriously felt the result of the war's interference with its normal activities."

"But the time will come when America will feel it, too. Just now the material advantages may outweigh greatly the disadvantages, but it is impossible that the greater part of the rest of the world should continue indefinitely in the present unnatural and chaotic condition without America suffering also."

"We in Sweden are suffering and have been suffering these disadvantages almost from the start. You are familiar with the manner in which we are requested to limit our imports to certain quantities of certain wares."

These quantities are fixed on basis of the average consumption of past years, and no consideration is given to the fact that our needs must properly increase or change otherwise, nor to the fact that we cannot consent to any limitation menacing our industrial development in the future."

Upon what, in what manner is our proper industrial development to proceed if we are held to supplies of materials more or less arbitrarily fixed and at all events, inadequate?"

"Country Alone Concerned."

"As I have already said, no action taken by us in respect of these things is in any way dictated by foreign considerations, nor by sympathy for one or the other belligerents. We are alone concerned about the future independence and economic development of our country and we cannot go so far in avoiding the present inconveniences placed upon us from without that it would endanger either this independence or development."

"Restrictions which are felt in comparatively small measure by the great American can strike at our very vitals."

NEGR0 SHOT AND KILLED IN FOREST PARK BY CHAUFFEUR

Edwin Jackson Says He Took Revolver From Houseman, and Fired During a Quarrel.

William Beatty, 25 years old, a negro houseman, employed at 1 Windermere place, was shot to death at 10 o'clock last night in Forest Park by Edwin Jackson, 37 years old, of 3600 Bell avenue, a chauffeur in the employ of Dr. John Young Brown, 3509 Waterman avenue.

A park watchman found Beatty about 300 feet east of the Wash-bash bridge and midway between Grand and Lindell drives. The negro died before reaching the city hospital. Jackson and Clifford Williams, 16 years old, of 3401 Bell avenue, were arrested at King's highway and Lindell boulevard as they were running away from the scene. After admitting that he had killed the negro, Jackson told the police that Beatty had made an engagement to meet Williams in Forest Park and had made a proposal that angered Williams. He said Beatty rebuked him for accompanying Williams and a quarrel ensued. Jackson said Beatty drew a revolver and that he took the weapon away from him and shot him. Williams corroborated Jackson's story.

BARK FILLER FOR FELT ROOFING

Wall Board and Wall Paper Also Made From Waste, Under U. S. Process.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Waste hemlock tan bark remaining after the tannin is extracted is being used by a number of mills to replace between 20 and 30 per cent of expensive rag stock, ordinarily used in manufacture of felroofing. Heretofore the waste bark was used as fuel and its value, only 40 cents a ton.

A good quality of wall paper and wall board also has been developed from tan-bark waste by the Federal forest products laboratory. More than 600,000 tons of hemlock bark are produced yearly in the United States.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

PURE MILK FUND CAMPAIGN ENDS IN THREE DAYS

Needs of Babies Who Have Been Aided Through Post-Dispatch Readers Still Are Great.

WORK IS TO BE KEPT UP

Milk Commission to Meet Requirements as Far as Its Resources Will Permit.

CONTRIBUTIONS.
Previously acknowledged $3800 26
Show, 3000 block, Magazine street 1 20
Total $3810 55

Three days remain in which the public may make its contribution to the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund that the milk made specially fit for all babies shall be delivered to the homes of the poor of St. Louis without cost to the heads of those homes. The regular and prompt coming of this diet for the helpless little ones to the number of from 300 to 400 is vitally important, according to physicians in charge of the cases, and will be so in considerable volume for perhaps two months.

At the end of the three days the campaign in which the Post-Dispatch has done what it could to aid and encourage the girls and boys of the community in their annual endeavor in behalf of the destitute infants will be closed for the current year. This is not because the children have exhausted their interest in the cause, for this is of the enduring type, as shown in their splendid efforts extending over a dozen years. It is due to the fact that circumstances make it impracticable for them to persevere until the sum obtained is ample to cover the cost of providing urgently needed milk so long as extraordinary demand is beyond the resources of the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission. Were it not for the duty they owe to themselves to derive full advantage from school opportunities the girls and boys would no doubt raise the $200 which the fund lacks fully to sustain the Milk Commission to the coming of cold weather.

It must not be understood from this that the Pure Milk Commission will be forced to discontinue its work altogether, should aid from the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund fall short to the extent stated. That vitally important institution is maintained by private subscriptions by several public-spirited men and women, but it relies each year upon substantial aid from the Milk and Free Ice Fund and broadens its scope as made necessary through hot weather effects upon the infant life of the community. This year the necessity was greater than at any previous time in its history, the result, in part, of the prolonged hot spell and also by the growth of the city in population. It believed the assistance received from the children's fund will equal that of last year, when the total was but little short of $5000 and the amount expended on the milk account was in excess of $2300.

The commission can go only so far in its work as means are in sight, for its bills must be paid. It knows what it is to accomplish, and when the sum to be obtained from the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund also becomes known it will be forced to adapt itself to the condition thus created. Whatever its desire in the direction of saving to save the lives and preserve the health of the destitute babies, the commission must of necessity bring its operations within the bounds of its resources.

The Busy Bee Luncheon and Tea Rooms, 417 N. Seventh street, will be open during the fall and winter season until 5 o'clock p. m. Special afternoon teas served from 3 to 5 o'clock.

HEYDT DENIES LIABILITY FOR PART OF WIFE'S $1010 BILLS

Wealthy Baker's Answer to Suit Says He Announced He Would Not Pay Accounts.

John E. Heydt, wealthy president of the American Bakery Co., filed answer in Circuit Judge Jones' court yesterday to the suit of Mrs. Lottie Rosenheim for $1010 on account of millinery and other apparel purchased by his wife, who is suing him for divorce. Heydt offers to pay $291.25, which he says represents purchases by Mrs. Heydt during March and April, 1916, but denies liability for the balance.

Heydt asserts he notified the plaintiff on June 6 that he did not intend to be responsible for further bills contracted by his wife unless he had first authorized them. Subsequently the plaintiff sent to the defendant a bill for $963, the answer sets forth. The Heydts separated March 25. She says he is a millionaire. She is occupying the home at 4536 Forest Park boulevard. Attorney Kortjohn said that Heydt's proposition to pay to Mrs. Heydt $250 a month for her maintenance in the home and pay the taxes, electric light, gas, fuel and telephone bills for their home was rejected by her at the time they separated.

American Party for Hughes.
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The American party, organized in 1914 by ex-Gov. Sulzer, plans to take an active part in the present campaign. Sulzer said his party had decided to support the entire Democratic ticket, but was "double-crossed" recently by Democratic leaders. Now, he says, the party will support the national Republican ticket and a part of the State Republican ticket. William F. McCombs, nominee of the Democrats for the United States Senate, will be favored, however.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Wilson vs. Hughes.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

While it is true that Mr. Hughes made an excellent Governor, it is also true that Mr. Wilson did likewise in the State of New Jersey. All real thinking men (be they Democrats, Republicans, Prohibitionists or Socialists) will agree that the laws in reference to corporations, known as the "Seven Sisters Laws," enacted during Mr. Wilson's administration as Governor of New Jersey, proved him to be a man of sterling qualities; the Republican Governors prior to him did not have the nerve or intelligence to correct the evils that existed in New Jersey in reference to "blue sky corporations."

Anyone can criticize the method of handling a hard problem such as the one at hand, but it is far harder to create a method which is superior to the one outlined by our present President.

In reference to the tariff, Mr. Wilson has proven to be far more advanced than his party and sees the necessity of a tariff. We should give him credit for changing his ideas after he saw that conditions warranted a "protective tariff."

In reference to the army and navy, we Republicans have been in control in Washington approximately 40 of the past 50 years, therefore think it advisable to "soft pedal" when speaking in reference to our "large" (7) and adequate (7) army and navy.

In reviewing the past four years and realizing the constructive legislation enacted during President Wilson's term of office, I think it advisable of all Republicans to try to bring out the sterling qualities of Mr. Hughes and not try to belittle a "great man," namely, President Wilson.

In conclusion would say that I am a Republican, never have voted for a Democratic President, but will vote for Woodrow Wilson at the next election and feel proud of my action.

A REPUBLICAN, BUT NEVERTHELESS A WILSONITE.

If Missouri Goes Dry.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Our valued men—those high-salaried employees who make our profits—are threatening to leave should Missouri go "dry."

Stealing Socialistic Ideas.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In a recent issue of the Post-Dispatch the editor, in referring to the President's position on the eight-hour workday, etc., says: "Mr. Wilson struck a heavy blow at Socialistic propaganda in the current year."

No doubt that the President will catch the votes of those who probably had been thinking of voting the Socialist ticket because of dissatisfaction with the usual treatment labor receives at the hands of the old parties, but surely no one, fully understanding the principles of Socialism, will be misled by those "drop in the bucket" acts; although Socialism is contended for them for years and still favors them.

Now, Mr. Editor, while you are counting that socialist vote of the coming election, permit me to remind you of the following facts:

Four years ago, when the Progressive party copied its progressiveness from the Socialist platform, and when Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy was calculated to head off the growing Socialist movement, the Socialist vote of that year was the only one showing an increase over its vote of 1908. All other parties declined.

It would seem that if ideas, copied from Socialism, are so worthy as to be so eagerly appropriated by the old parties, Socialism itself must have some merit. Every voter should study this question thoroughly and decide for himself.

GEO. P. STAHL.

A Disputed Question.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Let's begin with a question: If this world of ours had never seen or tasted a single drop of alcoholic liquor, would it, in your opinion, be better? All together: "Yes, it would." But to put the lid on would interfere with personal liberty. Again, "O Liberty, what crimes are committed in thy name!" When they put the lid on narcotics, they interfered with personal liberty, and nobody said a word. Some of those fellows took their "heat" with as much moderation as the average whiskey drinker does his.

Let the groggers men go into some other line of business, and for every distillery less there'll be a hospital less, and many happier homes and a better race of men and women. If war was declared in the morning we would meet the situation easily enough. Very well, what are a few brewers compared to the great gain to the race? It's only a question of time, anyway, and it's bound to come.

GEORGE W.

WHERE DOES THOMPSON STAND?

The Post-Dispatch has called attention to the fact that the former Board of Police Commissioners voted to refuse the renewal of the contracts with the Kinloch Telephone Co. with the board for police telephones and signal boxes. After investigation the board and the municipal officers concerned in the work decided that it would be more economical and satisfactory for the city to supply its own plant; the city would save money and get a better service.

The only member of the Police Board as then organized who voted against this resolution was Walter D. Thompson, a director of the Kinloch Telephone Co., who was appointed to the board in place of Commissioner Williams and was elected to the presidency of the board to succeed Mr. McPheeters. Subsequently the reorganized board voted to rescind the resolution closing out the Kinloch contracts, which had the effect of renewing them for a year. The board refused to be guided by the opinion of Counselor Daues, who is the legal advisor to the board.

Sec. 1396 of the Revised Statutes of Missouri provides that:

If any member of the board of managers or trustees, or any officer or employee of any class or kind of any of the eleemosynary institutions of this State, shall be, directly or indirectly, interested in any contract for any supplies in any quantity or of any kind, to be furnished said institution, or any work of any class or kind to be done upon or about any of said institutions or on the property or premises appurtenant thereto, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The same penalties are attached to presidents, professors, teachers, regents or other officers of the State schools for the deaf and blind, and section 1398 applies the provisions of the preceding sections to the Police and Election Boards in the following words:

The provisions of the two preceding sections shall also apply to all police and election boards elected or appointed in the various cities and towns of this State.

Of course, there is a general recognition of the violent impropriety of a director of a corporation voting on public contracts in which his corporation is directly or indirectly interested. Do these sections apply to Mr. Thompson, who, as a director of the Kinloch company, voted in favor of contracts in which a subordinate Kinloch company is interested and which have been declared contrary to the interests of the city and voted down by a previous board?

Under section 1399 the power of removal for an offense of this kind on the part of a member of the designated boards is placed in the hands of the Governor. What is Gov. Major's opinion on this question?

Isn't there ground for prosecution under this statute? Mr. Thompson should at least resign from the Police Board and thus relieve the Governor of embarrassment.

If it took the Colonel five months to settle a coal strike, what would have happened to him in 1916?

A MAN OF WORTH.

The best test of a man's worth is the judgment of men who closely associate with him as friends, colleagues, employers and subordinates. They come to know the man and his true quality.

By this test the late George McKimling, foreman of the Post-Dispatch composing room and connected with the Post-Dispatch for the greater part of 32 years, was a man of sterling worth. He combined with the skill of a trained craftsman unusual intelligence and breadth of view.

Mr. McKimling won not only the respect, but the affection of every man who associated with him in any capacity. Just and faithful in his business relations, he was loyal and generous in his friendships. His death brought a sense of profound loss to all of his associates.

The Chicago presidential nominee has developed a wonderful hindsight.

OVER THE ADJECTIVES OF 1912.

The meeting between Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt was long planned, elaborately staged and advertised as prodigiously as a new single stain or a breakfast cereal. But what political advantage will flow from it?

It may stimulate election betting at fictitious or unwarranted odds in Wall street. Where, however, is it going to make any votes?

Will any Progressive who rebelled against Mr. Taft and the political company he kept four years ago be more inclined to vote for Hughes because of this supreme proof that the Roosevelt of 1916, who shakes hands with Mr. Taft by prearrangement, by note, as it were, is not the Roosevelt of 1912, who called Mr. Taft a liar and imbecile?

Did Mr. Taft, who also hurled adjectives in 1912, need to shake with the Colonel to make the certainty more certain that a Taft man four years ago is a Hughes man now?

Where would even the affecting spectacle of Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt kissing each other in the presence of admiring witnesses at an exclusive New York club induce a single man to vote for Hughes who has not already decided to vote for him?

What did it all amount to?

SAD MEMENTOS.

The Beaucourt and Calais trains come to a stop in Paris at 4 o'clock every afternoon; and religiously, the station "hands" unload one or two cars with small labeled parcels, carry them to a large frame structure, where, in a spacious hall, they are spread out on temporary tables, and delivered to weeping women and children who have come there, upon notice, to receive them.

The parcels usually are wrapped in a bandanna handkerchief, and a label with the address dangles from the knot that holds together the ends. Some of the handkerchiefs are trench and blood stained, and the more affecting from their obtrusive marks of the past. Some of these bundles are not claimed, and are stored among thousands of others, in a vault of the Treasury, so valuable and sacred are they considered.

The contents have little to commend them, except as mementoes of dear ones that have gone forth, never to return; usually a watch and chain, an aluminum or silver ring, letters, a handkerchief, sometimes a photograph of an infant and its young mother, at times a bit of heater or a wild flower spared by the missiles, generally a notebook and the fallen soldier's number on leather and in metal.

Tears are plentiful as the transfers are made; frantic grief infectiously breaks through even the stoicism of the grizzly veterans, themselves maimed; and the scene beggars description until some considerate employee intones the Marseillaise, into the rhythm of which even the mellowest-hearted usually join. It is a sad procession that wends its way out of the gates into the deserted streets; and the casual passer-by, in awe, gives it a wide berth, so as not to disturb the grief-stricken.

Can one believe it—the Paris papers report a case where a ghoul broke into the shed and ransacked those poor relics! No wonder that the courts were forced by popular indignation, to impose a sentence of eight years on the fiend.

The Taft and Roosevelt "howdy" suggested considerable frost in the air.

MR. HUGHES' NEW RECRUIT.

Col. George Harvey's conception of what a President should be causes him to give his support to Mr. Hughes this year.

The reasons he assigns attest further to the operation of those forces which Mr. Wilson, with his acute sense of historical values described in a recent speech—forces tending to draw into one party all the progressives in the nation and into the other all the nonprogressives.

It is not belittling the great service which Col. Harvey, in part unwittingly, rendered in being the earliest to recognize Mr. Wilson's availability for the presidency, to say that he importunately urged his nomination because he thought Mr. Wilson a very different sort of man from the man he really was. A growing consciousness of this fact on the part of Mr. Wilson himself explains why he rejected further Harvey aid in 1912.

An excellent reason for re-electing the President is that Mr. Hughes is recognized this year by Col. Harvey and those he represents as just the sort of man they supposed Mr. Wilson was in the years from 1906 to 1912.

Aside from his description of a visit to England, with its denunciations reflecting tea-table views of fat old British dowagers because Mr. Wilson had not gone to war with Germany in aid of England, Col. Harvey has never written a weaker article than the one in which he tries to tell why he now prefers Mr. Hughes.

One of his "overpowering reasons" is the necessity for military preparedness. The Colonel, whose title is an honorary one conferring no military competence, chooses to ignore the fact that Mr. Wilson has done more for military preparedness than all the administrations of Mr. Hughes' party in 20 years.

Another "reason" is the necessity for industrial preparedness. This only means that Mr. Harvey et al. want the graft put back in the tariff which Mr. Wilson took out.

Another alleged reason is "government by and for the people," which means nothing at all. Since Mr. Lincoln uttered the amplified phrase, there has never been as close an approximation to government of, by and for the people as at present.

Editor Harvey is opposing Mr. Wilson and groping for "reasons" among conditions in our foreign affairs simply because of one thing. That is the remarkable program of helpful, ameliorative, forward-looking domestic legislation which Col. Harvey almost completely ignores. His denunciation of the eight-hour day revealed his real frame of mind.

"It is no disparagement of Mr. Wilson to say he has no friends abroad," declared the Colonel. And indeed it is not. When our elections are decided by alien "friends" domiciled either at home or abroad, President-making will take on phases undreamed of by even Mr. Harvey.

We have had lately from another source some illumination on the incentives that caused Mr. Harvey to be the first to suggest Mr. Wilson as a nominee. He himself has added new light.

The Government Free Employment Bureau at Eighth and Chestnut is to endeavor to find employment for everybody who can work. Even professional men are to be helped. It should be given all encouragement. Uncle Samuel is a genuine uncle.

The humiliation of the Colonel in not getting into a fight with Germany is distressing. The French foreign legion would doubtless welcome our fierce, untamable warrior to its awful ranks.

Nearly 50,000 German women are at work in German mines. The war is teaching the Kaiser that woman is of large importance even outside the home.

Both Mr. Taft and the Colonel are of sufficient capacity abnormally to dispose of their crow, even should it leave a bad taste in their mouths.

Thousands in his own party thought Lincoln weak and foolish. History has settled that matter. It will be equally just to Wilson.

ETERNAL PIFFLE.

From the Indianapolis Star.

Yes, it is all very irksome, humiliating, bunkiferous. Oceans of political piffle in the papers, volumes of it from the stump; one man suffices with adoration when he reads Teddy's speech, the other gets so mad he bites himself; half the world prays to be delivered from the soul-destroying blight of Republican rule, the other half praying to escape the everlasting torment of Democratic rule; the pillar of the church on North Meridian street figuring on a $10,000 appointment, the pillar of the union on Indiana avenue laying wires for $10 on election morning; a page from T. R., a page from Watchful Woodrow, a page from Hughes; 10 columns from Goodrich on Democratic extravagance and 10 columns from Stotsenburg on Democratic economy.

Yet this is the only way to carry on popular government. The people that get tired of politics and refuse to applaud when the campaign orator crows loose will some day walk down the tyrant's gangplank, with graves upon its wrists.

The uniform-price of liberty is eternal piffle.

SOCRATES ON THE CAMPAIGN.

SOCRATES: I did not see any of you at the Agora last night.

GLAUCON: No, Socrates. Tell us about it.

SOCRATES: Very well. There was a big crowd, and everybody wanted me to say what I thought about the campaign. A good many of those present want to get their bets down, and they were anxious to know what would be about right. I said that if anyone were offering odds on Hughesism, the Democrats ought to snap them up. I advised them to do this because I believe that Wilsonism will probably be the favorite in the betting before we go to the polls. Certainly he looks stronger every day. He is fairly dusting the map with his opponent's whiskers. If thousands of people who are not wearing the collar of any party are not going over to him every day, one is deceived by appearances.

POLEMARCHUS: You think he is going to win?

SOCRATES: I think one of two things is going to happen: Either it will be a close race, or Wilsonism will virtually sweep the country. My reason for saying this, as I told the crowd last night, is that a great many Republicans who have been waiting for Hughes to turn up something on Wilsonism are likely to go over to the opposition en masse when they become convinced at the end that there was nothing to turn. If that is to be so, it is easily possible that Hughesism may not carry even those two states saved out of the wreck of four years ago—Utah and Vermont.

THRASYMACHUS: Are there many such Republicans, Socrates?

SOCRATES: Of course there are. Republicanism is not a religion. One can have it and get over it exactly as one can have and get over things like measles. The average Republican wants what is best for the country. If he becomes satisfied that it would be best for the country to have Wilsonism in the White House another term, he is going to do what he can to make that possible. There are men like that in all the parties. They are the people who are going to decide the election.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

BEAUTY CULTURE.

THANK YOU.—Tea made from henna leaves makes hair dark or light auburn, according as tea is stronger or weaker; it must be used at least twice a month, as the line is every day. It is best to use the edges of hair is really gray. Thorough shampoo should be given first, that every particle of oil taken out. When perfectly dry and free of oil, hair will receive any sort of coloring, but it must be washed again when it is again applied.

ANXIOUS.—Complexion naturally dark cannot be changed. A bleach for whitening the skin, one of the few sanctioned by the profession, is made from 1 ounce Jordan almonds, blanched; 1½ drams bitter almonds, 1 pint distilled water and 7 grains of chloride of mercury. It is powdered form. It is best to get this prepared at a druggist's as care must be taken that nothing metallic touches the liquid. It is said to remove tan, freckles, moth patches and even scars from smallpox.

CLEANING.—J. H. T.—Fuller's earth is said to clean straw hats, preserving the straw and preventing yellowing.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.—DOT AND DISTRESS.—As to fleas, a Baltimore housewife says: "After trying every kind of powder, all kinds of liquids sprayed over the floors with no relief, we got some sheets of fly paper, spreading them where we would not be apt to step on them, and several times a day we were clear of all the pests." (Some cover cellar floors with quicklime.)

C. H. D.—Salmon salad: If canned salmon is used always drain it, clear it of skin and bits of bone and flake nicely. Season with vinegar or lemon juice, salt and pepper and set in the icebox at least two hours. Arrange the crisped lettuce on a salad bowl, heap the drained salmon in the center and cover the top with mayonnaise. This will be found an altogether better salad than when the salmon is turned directly out of the can and served immediately. (Schmierkase (cottage cheese): An easy and quick way is to place thick sour milk in a rather large vessel, pour over it, stirring all the time, about twice as much hot water as there is milk. Water must not be boiling, but just about the heat which will not burn the hand. Stir well, remove from the fire, wash closely and when the curds run hard enough strain and season to suit the taste, and beat up thoroughly with a small quantity of cream.)

Household Hints.
Toothache is cured by inserting in cavity absorbent cotton saturated with vaseline and dipped into burnt alum. To prevent children's clothing from taking fire, put an ounce of alum in the last rinsing water.

It is very difficult to whip the white of an egg if the yolk breaks when separating them and a particle of the latter gets into the white. When this happens, take a clean cloth dipped in hot water, insert a corner of it into the white of the egg; the particles of yolk will adhere to the cloth.

The Reward

The Western way of giving a man a square deal.

By Herbert Heron.

One knew just how popular Cobbe was till Dick Walling shot him. It was Cobbe's fault, but Walling didn't wait to explain. Like others, he didn't know the danger of the deceased's popularity, but he had a fair idea, and left Monterey as fast as his horse could take him. The animal was the speediest in the county.

He stopped at Pari's on his way up the valley. Pari greeted him cordially. For half an hour they talked. The phone rang.

"That's for me. I told Cobbe I'd stop here," and with that Walling took down the receiver.

"Hello! This Mr. Pari's. Oh, yes, you want me. What? Well, I'm damned! Not a sign. I'll watch. Sure. What? How much? Whew!" He ended in a long whistle, and hung up.

"I'll be sliding along now," he shook hands, mounted and rode toward Monterey till Pari shut the door. Then he circled and went on up the valley. A thousand dollars' reward, dead or alive! He knew now how popular Cobbe was. They hadn't even waited till the Sheriff had failed to get him.

There are few ranches above Pari's and these have no telephones, so he rode by, unconcerned. Toward midnight he came to a place owned by a girl and her brother. He had loved the girl, but decided that she didn't care for him. The brother liked him, though, and he could get some food for his stay in the mountains till things quieted down and he could leave the country.

The brother came to the door, pale and troubled. "He can't have heard!" he thought was dispelled by the sudden relief on the boy's face.

"Thank God, it's you, Dick! Mary's dying, and—" Walling followed him into the room where the girl lay, high in fever. "I couldn't leave her alone to get the doctor, but now you can go!" Something in Walling's manner stopped him. "I'll go, and you can stay with her. Are you on fire?" "I'll take him. It'll be quicker." Before Walling could think what to say the boy was gone. He went to call him back. The girl moaned. What could he do? He couldn't refuse the duty fallen on him from the sky, even if the girl were a stranger; and this was the woman he loved.

"Dick! . . . Oh, Dick! . . . Dick! . . ." The voice from the bed startled him. He went softly over to see what she wanted. In her eyes there was no recognition; she had spoken in delirium.

The Vigilantes Arrive.

HE loved him! But the rush of joy was swept away by the sight of her suffering. He bathed her face and hands. By and by the fever seemed less. She passed into a light sleep. He made some coffee. While he drank it he had time to think of himself. When the doctor came from Monterey . . . The doctor would know, and . . . "I must clear out when I hear them coming." Then another thought forced its way in: "Go now, while you've still a good lead. Go now!"

He went to the stable, saddled a horse and led him out. Then the face of the girl came over him. He left the horse tied to the gate and went back. She was sleeping still, but brokenly. He couldn't go.

It was two hours' ride to Paris, where the boy could phone. . . . If the doctor left Monterey immediately he'd get to the house about 5. It was now nearly 2.

The girl slept. Walling knew it was the critical time. If she woke better, she would probably recover. The thought was sweet to him. If she went again into delirium. . . . He sat still, thinking. The hours passed very slowly.

Suddenly Walling heard a step outside. He had heard no horse coming. He looked out cautiously, and saw four men with rifles. Walling cocked his revolver, took down the boy's rifle from the wall and loaded it. He could account for some—and those who were left might depart. It would be a battle, anyway. There was no use being taken alive. Better be shot than hanged.

The leader made a signal. Walling raised his gun. And then—Mary stirred. Her battle, like his, was still undecided. If she slept on, and woke refreshed, she would get well. If not . . .

A Five Hours' Start.

WALLING laid down his rifle and stepped outside. The men covered him. As he was taken down the road to the waiting horses, the doctor and the girl's brother drove up. "She's asleep," said Walling.

The boy showed no surprise—he had heard the story from the doctor—but his voice was pitiful: "Why didn't you? . . . I didn't know. . . . Oh, God! . . . and you stayed . . . when you could have got away!" He turned to the men with a hopeless look. "It's my fault! I thought she was dying. He didn't tell me he couldn't stay! He'd be safe in the mountains by now. . . . Oh, my God!"

The leader glanced at his companions. They were stern men, but they were moving uneasily. The situation was unbearable.

"How long have you been here?" "Since about midnight," answered Walling, though he couldn't see what difference it made. The leader took out his watch.

"Twelve minutes past 5 now. Say we've been 15 minutes getting you, that leaves five hours. We'll stay here and rest our horses. At 12 minutes past 10 we'll start again. That suit you boys?"

"What do you mean?" asked Walling. "I mean you still have your five hours' start; you haven't lost anything by staying with the sick girl!"

Walling went back to the house. Mary was still sleeping. He touched her hand. It seemed cooler.

"Tell her I'll write—if I can."

"Good-by," said the boy.

As he went out Walling saw the men unsaddling their horses. He took off his hat to them as he rode away into the mountains.

TO THE PUBLIC!

In July, 1916, a strike occurred at all local Government inspected packing houses, which involved Meat Cutters and Butcher's Union No. 28. This Union declared all these houses "unfair" and published circulars to that effect, but subsequently pulled off the Government inspected packing houses from the "fair" list, and continued the boycott as to all the others.

The Kroger Grocery and Baking Co. had a contract with Meat Cutters and Butcher's Union No. 28. This contract governed wages, hours, etc., and was lived up to in every particular by the Kroger Company, but this contract in no manner gave the Union the right to dictate the houses from which the Kroger Company should buy its meat supplies. Local No. 28, after declaring unfair the local Government inspected packing houses, refused to allow the Kroger Company to buy meat products from such houses and also refused to allow the meat cutters, working in the Kroger Stores, all members of local No. 28, to receive or cut the products of such houses. This prevented the Kroger Company from buying supplies from Government inspected houses with which it had been dealing for years, and made it impossible to secure for its stores a sufficient supply of Government inspected meat of the quality which it was accustomed to furnish its patrons.

Government inspected meat means meat from sound and healthy animals, slaughtered under sanitary conditions, inspected both before and after slaughtering, by Government Veterinarians, and that such meat is clean, wholesome and fit for good food because inspection guarantees its quality. The inspection of the meat by the Government is a great protection to the general public.

The Kroger Company, being cut off from its usual supplies of meat by the action of Local No. 28, was forced to close the meat departments of ten of its stores on September 18th, to which action the Union made no objection; the meat departments of the remaining stores on September 25th, and the meat departments of the remaining stores on October 2d. Each time a notice was posted in the stores setting out the above facts, and each time the Kroger Company hoped the Union would change its attitude. The Kroger Company had no interest whatever in the strike in the local packing houses, and was drawn into this controversy because its meat cutters were members of Local No. 28, refused to receive or cut the products of these packing houses, and under heavy fines, imposed or threatened by the union, were forced to submit. Our company is clearly the goat in this matter.

The Kroger Company paid the full union scale to its meat cutters, and in a number of instances paid more than this scale. The union does not make any complaint about its house and wages. The Kroger Company is the innocent victim in the packers' strike, and, after being cut off of the meat business by Local No. 28, this union now announces that it proposes to boycott the Kroger stores, conducting the grocery and vegetable departments, and picket them because of a alleged failure to observe a contract which the union deliberately broke by forcing the Kroger Company out of the meat business.

Our attorney tells us that no notice under the contract is required, when meat departments are closed, and this is particularly true when the union forced the closing by absolutely refusing to let us buy necessary Government inspected meats to supply our customers. Local No. 28 has discriminated against the Kroger Company by permitting other St. Louis stores to buy meat from the same sources, while the products of the "unfair" packing houses, which the union deliberately broke by forcing the Kroger Company out of the meat business.

On these facts the Kroger Company is willing to submit the matter to the judgment of all fair-minded men.

BISHOP TUTTLE TELLS OF 50 YEARS WORK AS BISHOP

Has Preached 12,306 Sermons Since He Entered Ministry in 1862.

The Right Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle of 74 Vandeventer place, Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, who today observed the fiftieth anniversary of his election as a Bishop, gave a Post-Dispatch reporter an interesting account of the early days of his 54 years as a minister. He was honored today by the Episcopal clergy-men of the city, who gave a luncheon for him at St. George's Chapel, 4301 Olive street.

The clergy of the diocese presented him with a gold pectoral cross, the insignia of his office.

Bishop Tuttle will be 80 years old Jan. 26, next, and on May 27—a day which it is his fond desire to live to see—he will observe the half century of his consecration as a Bishop. For the last 30 years he has been Bishop of Missouri, and during the 20 years prior to that he pioneered for the Episcopal church in the great Northwest as Bishop of Montana, with jurisdiction over Idaho and Utah.

Looking retrospectively over his career, Bishop Tuttle could recall in the 54 years only two Sundays on which illness required him to be absent from services.

"It was in Salt Lake in the early days," he said. "Once I had a swelling on my face which knocked me out, and another time I had lumbago. I feel that the Lord has wonderfully blessed me with health and strength to carry on my work."

The venerable Bishop, with white hair and equally white long beard, making him look like a patriarch of Bible times, received the reporter in his library, where four walls covered with books of theology and the classics remind one of the Bishop's early scholarly inclination which he credits as being the cause of his entrance into the ministry.

He simply grew into the life of a clergyman, he said, because of the interest taken in him by the Rev. Dr. Judd, rural pastor of Episcopal churches in the country district in the Catskill Mountains of New York, where he was born. When he was 10 years old the Rev. Judd took him in hand to teach him Latin and Greek, "which I then thought were abominations," the Bishop added with a smile. He came to like the classical studies, however, and pursued them assiduously through Columbia College in New York, having learned by that time to the church as a life work.

The little memorandum books he has kept from the day he preached his first sermon show that he has been a busy life.

"I will show you," he said as he pulled a worn volume from his desk. "Here it is; the record of my first sermon."

First Sermon in New York.

An entry in ink, now faded to a light brown, showed that he preached on June 1, 1862, at St. Peter's Church, New York City. In front of the entry was No. 1. He began then to number his services and has continued the custom to this day just as he has continued to set down in books like that first one and in the same style a record of all his ministerial acts. The last entry in the newest book, of which there are five altogether, was numbered 12,306. The ink was a bright blue, the page was whiter than the first one, but the handwriting was the same except that it was a little broken, a little more uneven.

The Bishop then turned through his latest book and quickly gave the aggregate number of his ministrations in a clerical capacity. He had officiated at 12,306 confirmations, 1738 baptisms, 231 marriages and 245 funerals. His acts of this nature probably are not as many as those of some younger ministers because there were only four years that he held a regular pastorate.

His first pastorate, and the only pastorate he ever held, was that of a country church at Morris, N. Y. He took it immediately after he was ordained in 1862 and held it until he became a Bishop in 1886 at the age of 24. There was surprise that he was elected to the House of Bishops so young and after so short service as a pastor, but he was a strong young man of much force, exactly such as was needed in the Western country.

"Bishop Without a Church." "When I went west as Bishop of Montana, having jurisdiction over the states of Idaho and Utah in addition," Bishop Tuttle said, "I found not one Episcopal minister in all the three states. I was a Bishop without any church. In all that territory I found only 20 communicants. There were no railroads, so I had to travel by stage and endure some hardships. I spent the first winter at Virginia City, Mont., and organized a church. The next year I went to Helena and started another church. We branched out, and in a few years had many churches throughout the three states. Today we have in that territory three Bishops, 70 clergymen and 8000 communicants."

Bishop Tuttle referred to the Mormons in Utah and their opposition to his church. "But they were always fair," he said. "True, we fought each other. I gave them to understand I was there to fight their doctrines, and his eyes glinted. 'but I respected their rights and they respected me. We founded a school in Salt Lake City and won some of the Mormons to our church. I have not a word against the Mormons, for they fought fairly.'"

Bishop Tuttle will preside at the opening of the centennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church here a week from today. He has been presiding Bishop since 1903, succeeding to the office automatically because of seniority in point of consecration as a Bishop.

ROMANIAN ATROCITIES ARE REPORTED BY GERMAN WRITER

Declares Women and Children Were Either Burned in Their Homes or Shot to Death.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—(By wireless to Sayville.) Further details of alleged Rumanian atrocities in Dobruja, says the Overseas News Agency, are contained in a report from the Sofia correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung, who, with several other correspondents and William Warfield, the American Charge d'Affaires at Sofia, investigated reports in Dobruja (Bessarabia), Silistria and surrounding towns and villages. The correspondent writes:

"Everywhere we followed traces of assassination and incendiarism and everywhere there was the same complaint about the loss of life and property."

"Girls were driven into the Rumanian trenches, attacked and then murdered, especially in the neighborhood of Silistria. Women and children were locked up in houses, then either burned to death or shot. It has been proved that the Rumanians ravaged the country in an indescribable fashion on the direct command of their superiors."

CINCINNATI BREWER SLAIN BY WOMAN WHO KILLS HERSELF

Bodies Found in Her Home With Note Telling Reason for the Tragedy.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 5.—Alphonso Wetters, 49 years old, vice president and secretary of the Wetterer Brewing Co. of this city, who, it is believed, was shot by Helen Houck, 30 years old, at her home last night, died early today. Miss Houck was found dead with a bullet hole in her right temple in the room where Wetterer was found with two bullet wounds in his head.

No one witnessed the shooting, but Miss Houck left a note addressed to her sister which the police and coroner said indicated that she shot Wetterer and then herself, claiming he wronged her.

A WEDDING IS A HAPPY EVENT UNTIL YOU START SENDING OUT INVITATIONS—BY GOLDBERG.

THEY can't say that the Women who are speaking for Hughes are talking through their whiskers.

GENIUS

One night I said a fearfully clever thing and I thought I was a genius. And so did the people who heard me and they asked me back for three evenings more, but I never said anything clever again and so they put me down as a bore. But some folks NEVER say anything clever, so why not invite me some more?

OUT IN THE COUNTRY WHERE THE DUST IS THICKEST THE LADY'S SKIRTS ARE THE LOWEST.

TOO TRUE

If you haven't any aim in life, You better get your self a wife, For she has aim enough for two As you will find when she hits you.

CAMILIA CLIMENTO

(Written in honor of a 17-year-old Italian girl, both young and pretty, who has just joined her boyhood sweetheart in Pueblo, Colo., after 45 days' solitary travel through enemy blockades.)

In this day of mad flirtation, Dashing and depopulation, Have we girls in this here nation Who would sail the seas, Searching for some ardent lover, Knowing there was naught about her But the angry flags Of her country's enemies—Laying youth and sex and beauty On the altar of her duty, Giving up her tutti-frutti, And her teas and symphonies—Glorious in her youth and gladness, And so happy in her madness That the God of War Must do his best to please?

Sweet Camilia Clemento—May this song be a memento Of the trip you took in spite of Germany—

Forty days through blood and water Sailed Italy's fair daughter— And we thank Neptune we caught her From the sea!

BRAVE KNAVES

WHEN the Foreign Legion warred, Survivors wore a twisted cord As token of their bravery— They may have come from dens and dives, And suffered knotted, twisted lives— But war has cleaned their knavery.

Yesterday's news—T. R. and Taft shake hands and Mayor Kiel declares a half holiday.

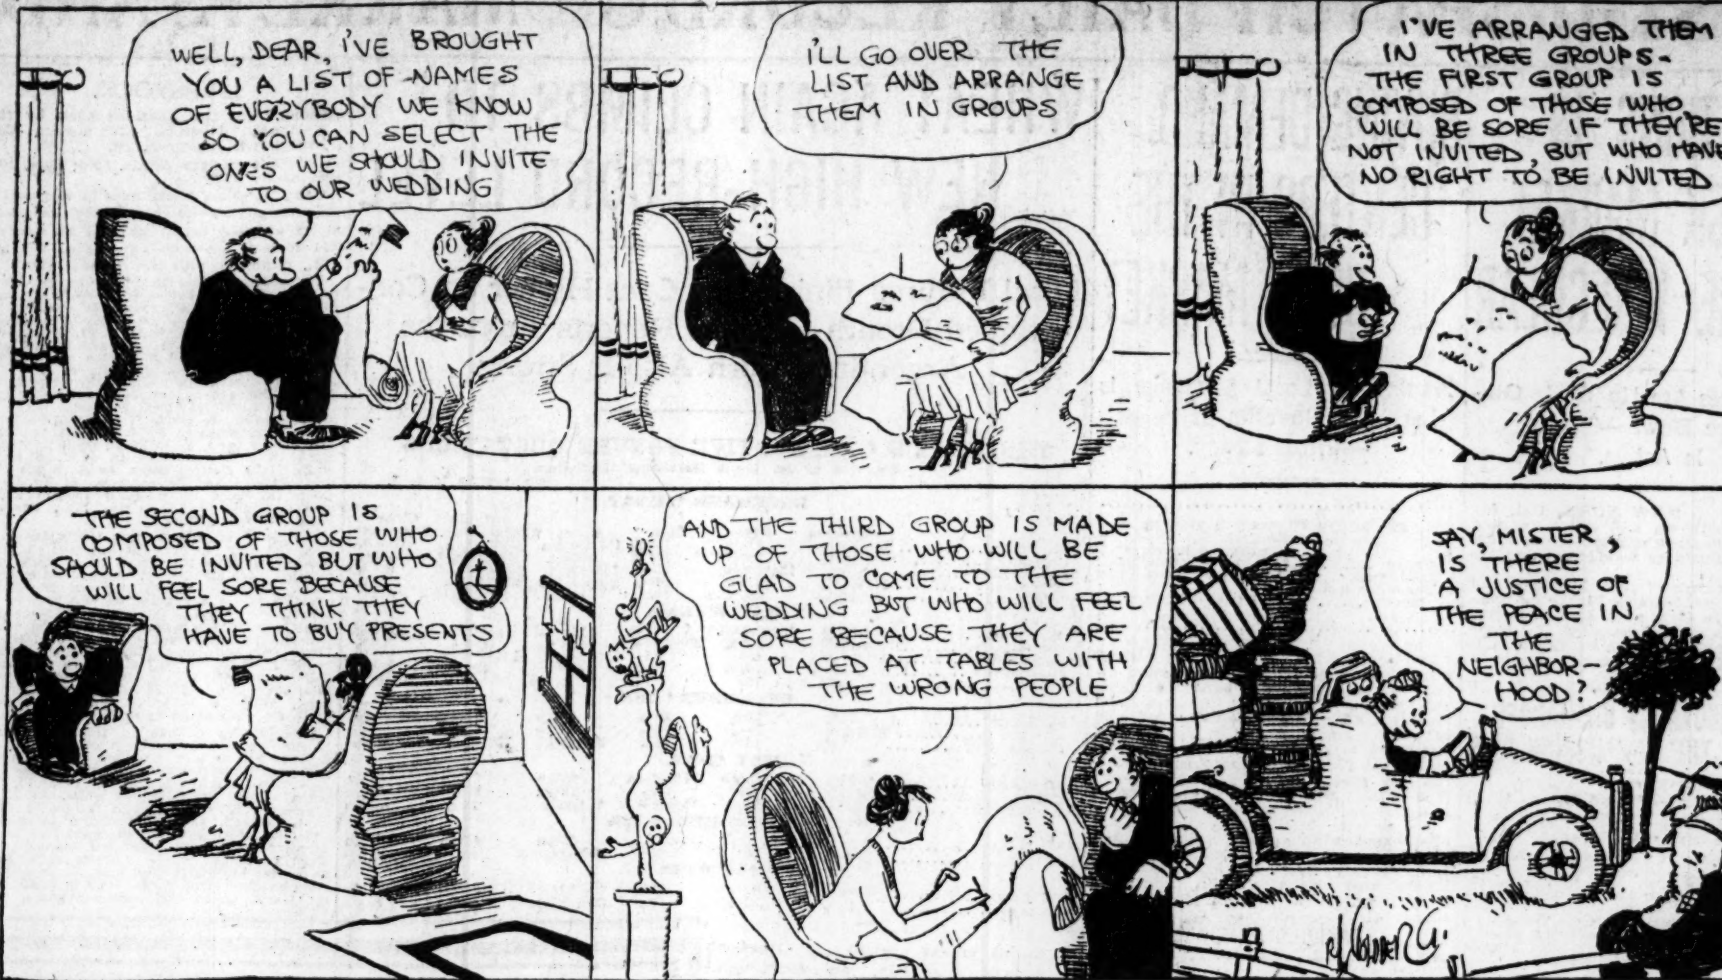

You would think the St. Louis Republic would feel the need of Russian more than Spanish classes—wouldn't you?

There is at least 100 pounds of ex-President Taft that can never be elected to further office—that he has lost since he carried Delaware and Utah.

GIRLS like men who "have," not who "do," big deeds.

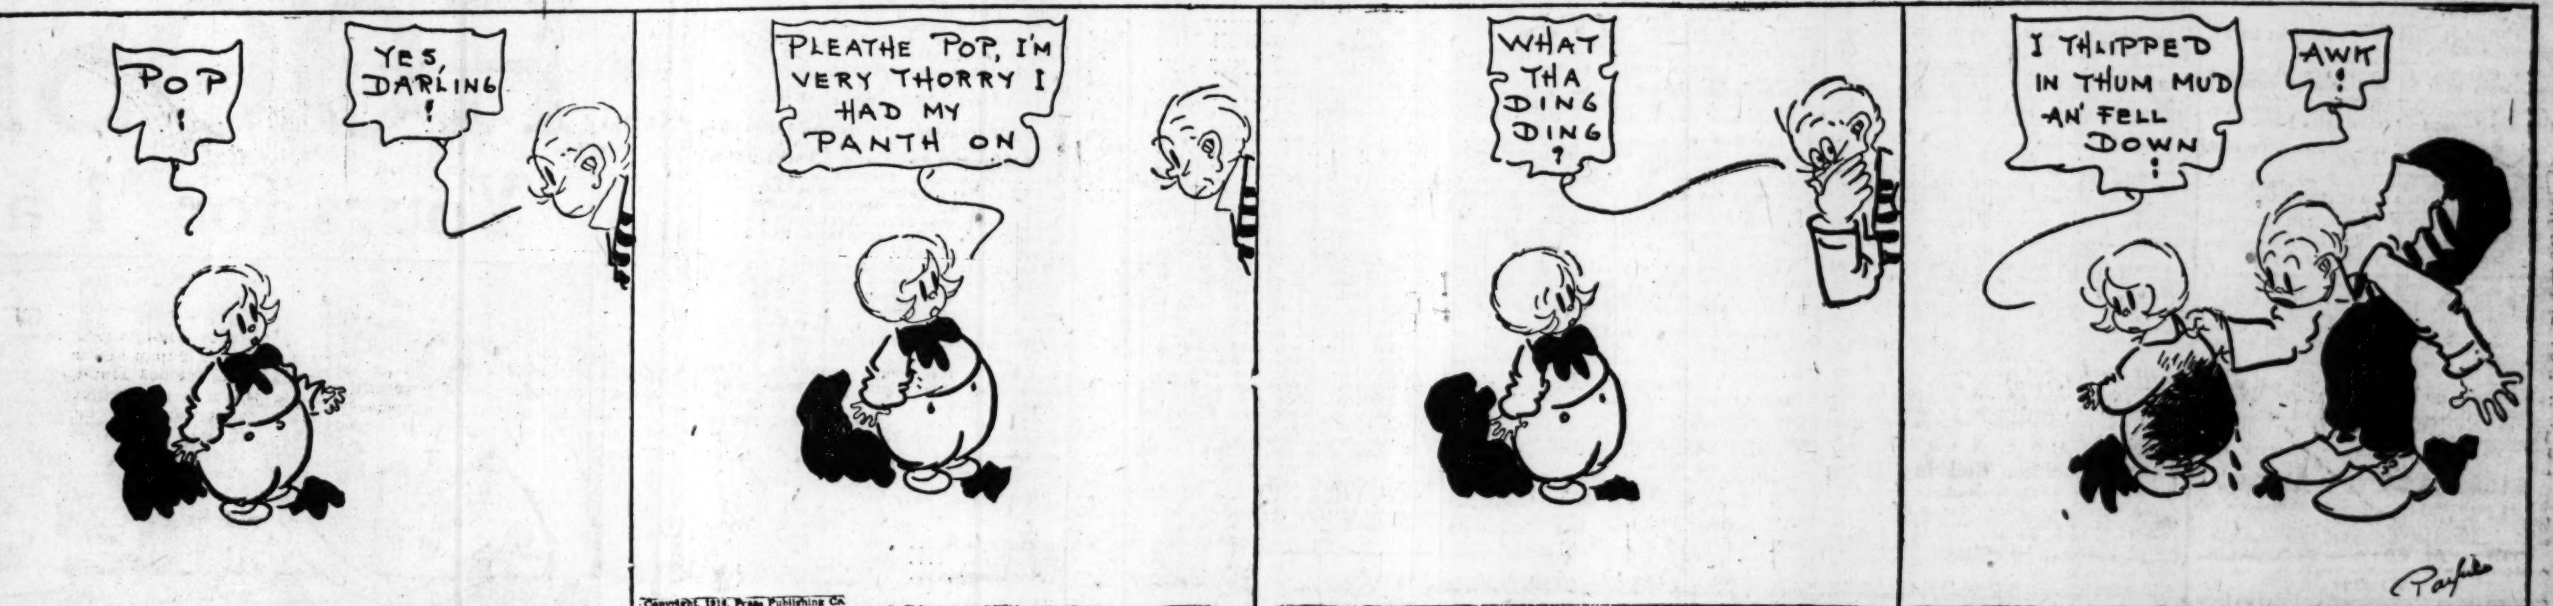

The ladies' page of a London weekly says that "by degrees we are discovering that the war is depriving us of some necessities." Such as the men, we suppose.

Real Sport.

FOR golf I do not give a hoot; A tennis ball I never shoot; A football combat makes me weep, And cricket sends me off to sleep. Baseball is what I dearly love, Although I never donned a glove. My mission in the grand old game? To call the ump his rightful name.

As a general thing, if two sports get an even break both are likely to go broke.

It is said that a young man is formed at 25, but it takes much longer than that to reform him.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Nellie's Dilemma.

CALLER: Nellie, is your mother in? Nellie: No, mother is out shopping. Caller: When will she return? Nellie (loudly): Mother, what shall I say now?
